Issue 2 - August 2008

2008 marks the 21st Anniversary of the North Wales Choral Festival and to celebrate this achievement organisers have developed a new website (www.northwaleschoralfestival.co.uk), which will help to develop the festival and increase its awareness to more choirs from all over the UK and Ireland!

Y Gleision

Choirs can find out information about the venue, location, accommodation, adjudicators and much more on the new website. They can also download entry forms and rules and regulations directly online now. We realise that choirs have many commitments throughout the summer months and have therefore extended the deadline to Friday 26th September.

This year's festival is taking place on Saturday 8th November at Venue Cymru, Llandudno.

There are four classes: youth; mixed; ladies and male voice. Choirs compete for a prize fund of £2,500, with the winners of each class taking part in the evening winners' concert where they will compete for the overall winner's trophy.

Last year's competitors included North Wales' very own Ysgol Glanaethwy who have gone from strength to strength and are still going strong in the BBC's 'Last Choir Standing'.

So come along, enjoy this wonderful festival and see the beauty that North Wales has to offer!

Below are some testimonials from the 2007 event:

"A well organised event with readily available information provided by key staff at all times"

Blues Choir Representative

"It was our first choral competition and we thoroughly enjoyed the experience"

Merfyn Walters
Dragons Choir Secretary

"Llandudno is very nice - the people are very friendly and helpful"
